Accuracy

DiaMension™ AXIOM is a high-end diamond scanner, revolutionized by in-light direct microscope analysis, detecting the smallest imperfections of the stone's cut & symmetry, such as facet junctions. The DiaMension™ AXIOM is the only scanner that enables fully automated Cut & Symmetry grading.

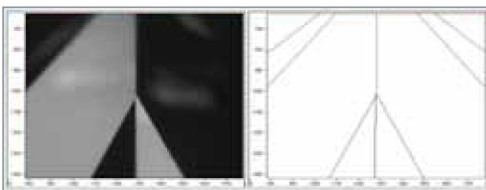

- New level of measurements: accuracy, repeatability & fidelity
- Provides Cut and Symmetry grading
- 1-Click fully automated solution
- Real in-light microscopic imagery of the diamond

New Modeling Concept

- Micron-level accuracy through advanced microscopic technology
- High resolution direct measurement assures unmatched consistency
- High fidelity through precise 3D imagery

Cut & Symmetry Grading

- Measures the smallest features of the diamond, such as: Pointing, Misalignment and Misshapen
- Fully automated process (one click)
- Removing the human factor with automated symmetry grading at the highest standards required by leading labs

DiaMension™ AXIOM Device

- Next generation technology, breaching the old 'Shadows' modeling limitations
- High-resolution microscope analysis and diamond photography
- Interchangeable lenses for different stone sizes
